

I suggest that if I am safe to submit my taxes online of my own accord, I should therefore be secure enough and able to vote online. Otherwise logic would suggest that presently voting offers more of a security risk than payment of taxes.